

Kingsman Technology Solutions

Kingsman Technology Solutions was founded with the singular goal of leveraging deep expertise in Microsoft technologies to provide advanced solutions to Public Sector customers. We bring a team of technical professionals using Microsoft development methodologies to solve some of the most challenging problems. Our founder has decades of federal contracting experience with enterprises such as the U.S. Marine Corps and Microsoft. This experience was leveraged to forge the Kingsman culture where work ethic and technical excellence are core values. When combined with an understanding of customer goals, the result is less risk and more agility in the building of solutions that generate positive business impact.
